13 How can I apply for SGUnited Mid-Career Pathways Programme positions?

Mature mid-career individuals who are keen to apply can visit MyCareersFuture from 1 April 2022 onwards.

14 How will the attachment matching, and onboarding take place under this programme?

All approved attachment vacancies will be uploaded on mycareersfuture.gov.sg, which will provide a single point for individuals to apply for such positions. Host organisations will then reach out to applicants directly based on their shortlisting and selection processes.

What is being done to ensure that host organisations provide meaningful attachments? Who can trainees contact if their host organisation have poor HR practices, or they have a dispute with their host organisations?

Each application by a host organisation is carefully screened by the Singapore Business Federation (SBF), which is appointed by WSG as programme partner for the SGUnited Mid-Career Pathways Programme. SBF checks that the attachments are of good quality and provide meaningful opportunities for the trainees with the intention to hire the individual upon completion. SBF will also work with the host organisation to improve their proposals, such as improving the development plans for trainees.

We would encourage all trainees to step forward if there are any breaches to the programme requirements, and WSG will not hesitate to take action against host organisations who abuse the programme.

Should trainees encounter any poor HR practices, or end up in a dispute with the host organisation, they can reach out to the Singapore Business Federation, our programme manager, with the following

16 Am I allowed to take on multiple attachments at one time?

You are only permitted to take on one attachment at any one point in time. If you are found to have breached this criterion, you will have to exit from the programme with immediate effect. You may be required to return the training allowance received.

17 What if I am unable to secure an attachment?

If you are unsuccessful in securing an attachment, you can apply for other jobs on mycareersfuture.sg or seek assistance from WSG's Career Connect Services, NTUC's e2i's career centres and SGUnited Jobs and Skills Centres

<sup>18</sup> If I have previously participated in the SGUnited Mid-Career Pathways Programme- Company Attachments from Aug 2020 to March 2022, will I be able to participate in this iteration?

Mature mid-career individuals who have previously participated in the SGUnited Mid-Career Pathways Programme- Company Attachments are eligible to participate in the new SGUnited Mid-Career Pathways Programme starting 1 April 2022. However, you will not be allowed to come onboard the programme if the host organisation is the same as the earlier one approved for the attachment under the previous programme.
